BIBLIO job role profiles

1. Community engagement and communication officer

The community engagement and communication officer reaches out to underserved communities to identify, pilot, and establish both building and non-building based library services that boost engagement and address barriers to library use, literacy, and digital inclusion.

2. Digital transformation facilitator

The digital transformation facilitator supports their colleagues and the library's activities in the transition to the digital era. They support digitisation activities and the use of new digital tools within the library.
